

Interdev Release innovative 'Pay As You Go' Mobile Data Solution for Transport Operators

Melbourne, Australia - 1st July 2009 - Melbourne based technology company InterDev has released an innovative mobile data solution for companies providing transport operations. The Transporta Service solution is offered on a fixed price per month - Pay As You Go basis, and requires no complex installation other than a web browser at the client's premises, along with mobile devices such as the recently released Intermec CN50 and Motorola offerings.

Small and Medium size companies have traditionally found it challenging to access mobile data solutions given the historical price barriers. The Xmotion Transporta Service will allow access to the services and technology at a cost effective monthly fee bringing powerful services to organizations of all sizes.

Transporta Service provides the facilities required to create and manage work, dispatch work and receive real-time updates of work in progress. Transporta Service will provide electronic Proof of Delivery along with powerful GPS and mapping services to locate and track vehicles. The GPS services will also assist in automating the delivery process ensuring accurate deliveries and driver efficiencies. The service also provides the ability to track and report on demurrage or 'wait time' along with full job history.

"The Pay As You Go service is provided as a Software As A Service model (SaaS) which offer significant benefits including lower initial costs. SaaS applications are subscription or 'rental' based. This means more access to more powerful software services at lower initial costs. Having Interdev manage the IT infrastructure means lower IT costs for hardware, software, and the people needed to manage it all." said Interdev Australia General Manager, Andrew Rossington

SaaS solutions also offer access from anywhere. SaaS applications are available from any computer or any device—anytime, anywhere you have an internet connection and a PC or laptop. By now, most people are familiar with using the Internet, SaaS software allows access from home, multiple branch offices or anywhere in the world.

Transporta Service will provide companies the ability to get started quickly. Not having to buy and install new server or PC hardware and software allows rapid uptake. Clients can be up and running in days rather than weeks.

Xmotion Transporta Service will provide a mobile transport solution, enabling businesses to competitively deliver quality real-time customer visibility, supply chain efficiency and operational management which is increasingly being demanded and driven by customers as well as by legislative requirements.

The successful Xmotion Mobility Platform which has been deployed across a range of large corporate customers provides the foundation for the Transporta Service.

“Mobility services that are accessible to all sizes of customers are significantly lacking in availability and innovation. To our knowledge, there are no offerings available in Australia that provide the power and flexibility of the Transporta Service and are available on a Pay as You Go basis” said Andrew Rossington, InterDev General Manager.

Xmotion Transporta Service will leverage the highly successful and widely deployed Xmotion Mobility Platform which that delivers reliable, secure and cost effective mobile data solutions for enabling wireless business applications. The Xmotion product has gained rapid acceptance in the market due to its enterprise architecture and low deployment and support costs. Currently, Xmotion products are in use within varying market verticals including transport, logistics and service, field service and retail sales based organisations.

The Transporta Service will be available via a network of Authorised Partners.
