

Xmotion Mobility provides solution for the Australian Grand Prix Corporation

Melbourne, August 2006 – InterDev today announced that Xmotion will be deployed at the 2006 GMC Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix event at Phillip Island on September 15 - 18. Xmotion will provide the platform for Australian Grand Prix Staff to provide participant feedback and track side competition entry. The solution will be deployed across Tablet based PC's and further demonstrates the power and flexibility of the Xmotion Mobility Platform.

“The Australian Grand Prix Corporation staff will now be able to collect valuable data from the event participants and offer attendees the ability to receive future event information as well as participate in competitions run at the event” said Andrew Rossington, InterDev Marketing Manager. “Solutions such as this demonstrate the value of data capture in the field and the steps taken in mobility solutions to support this”.

Xmotion is an Innovative Mobility product that delivers reliable, secure and cost effective mobile data solutions for enabling wireless business applications. The Xmotion product is gaining rapid acceptance in the market due to its enterprise architecture and low deployment and support costs. Currently, Xmotion is in use within varying market verticals including transport, logistics and service based organisations. The ‘application ready’ framework provided by Xmotion, allows business applications to be rapidly developed or migrated to Xmotion, without the need to understand the complex communication, security and fault tolerance issues. Xmotion provides a full suite of mobility features that ensure business applications are simple to deploy, reliable, secure and cost effective.
